Hawaii Marvels at Endurance

Two Aviators Plan Return to Bay City Wednesday by Steamship

Officers Make Formal Calls on Dignitaries After Day of Rest

MONOLU, June 30. (AP)—Lieut. Lester J. Matland and Albert Hegenberger, who landed near here yesterday morning after a flight from Oakland over the 2400 miles of Pacific Ocean, were planning today to leave for San Francisco next Wednesday on the steamship Maui. The giant Pooker plane which made the longest flight over water will be left in the island for interisland flying by army aviators.

The love of the aviator for his plane, like the traditional love of the sailor for his ship, was proved today when Matland and Hegenberger visited the great monoplanes, which bore them at almost 100 miles an hour in the history-making flight of twenty-five hours and fifty minutes. Hawaiian marvels at the endurance shown by the two young army flyers. Hegenberger, typical of healthy young manhood, was the only thing that troubled them on their long flight, and they were marked today for the good-natured bantering of friends for having failed to find chicken, soup and chocolate placed aboard their plane at Oakland.

With only a couple of hours for rest yesterday they were up in the afternoon for a plunge into the sea. They were routed out of bed early today for a long list of official and social affairs, where tributes were paid them for their exploit.

They called on Maj.-Gen. Edward M. Lewis, commanding the Hawaiian department of the Army. Rear-Admiral John D. McDonald and Gov. Wallace R. Farrington. They were guests of honor at a community luncheon.

A dinner at the home of Col. John H. Howard, department chief, and a public reception at 9 o'clock was the evening program arranged for the flyers.

BOTH BEMIDDERED Hegenberger explained, at a community luncheon given in his honor, at which nervousness of the women was plainly apparent. "We

LOS ANGELES DOCTOR GETS LICENSE AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30. (Exclusive)—Charles R. Knox, 70-year-old Los Angeles physician accused of violating the laws regulating the practice of medicine, was given his license again today by the State Board of Medical Examiners, but placed on probation for five years to determine his ability to observe the laws. Dr. Knox's license was taken from him when he allowed a vendor of patent medicines known as "Cypres Dan" to use his name and license.

GERMANS HOLD FAST PLACES READY TO WELCOME BYRD

BERLIN, July 1. (AP)—Ten of the Lufthansa aeroplanes in South Germany are holding their fastest planes in readiness should Commander Byrd appear over German territory on a possible flight to Vienna.

At midnight the Lufthansa officials were still without information as to Versailles, but an hour's search failed to reveal them and the report turned out to be a sorry joke.

It was plain soon after the America struck the French coast that something had gone wrong and that they had lost their direction. When Byrd was seen over Brest at 8:30 p.m. it was supposed they would reach Le Bourget around 11 o'clock. Then came reports they were over the Brittany coast and at one moment were bound westward. Then, when over Rennes, they seemed to have found their way. Wireless signals, which unfortunately failed to give their location, kept coming until about 10 o'clock. Then for an hour and a half no word came. Then a wireless message was picked up by Eiffel Tower saying their wireless had been out of commission but was repaired.

SEEK LE BOURGET

Nothing definite came along until 12:30 when the aviators gave indications of seeking Le Bourget. Suddenly, just about 1 o'clock the Byrd plane began to send S.O.S. messages containing the information they were somewhere south of Paris and their compass had gone wrong. This was followed by a message at 1:05 stating that Byrd desired to have indicated to him the landing field. This gave rise to the belief he was due to land immediately somewhere but five minutes later another wireless said he had enough gas to keep going three hours longer.

BYRD HOPELESSLY LOST AS HE CRUISES IN DARK

PARIS, July 1 (2:15 a.m.) (Exclusive)—Somewhere over the murky darkness of rain-soaked France, Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three companions have been flying for more than an hour, hopelessly lost and unable even to locate Le Bourget flying field, five miles north of Paris.

"Our compass has completely gone bad on us. We cannot tell north from south," he radioed Le Bourget officials twenty minutes ago.

"Please indicate some way or some place we can land. We have got enough fuel for two hours more, but are unable to locate anything or tell the simplest direction," another radio read.

The flyers are unable to see through the heavy rain the lights at Le Bourget field, or the rockets which have been shooting up from there every 10 seconds.

At 12:45 the America passed over Viry-Chatillon, a village fifteen miles directly south of Paris, sending out S.O.S. calls asking for guidance after they had followed the Brest-Paris Railroad all the way in past Chartres, sixty miles southwest of the capital.

Though early reports had them over their actual destination. They were unable to get in wireless touch with him.

BROTHER BELIEVES BYRD STILL IN AIR

WINCHESTER (Va.) June 30. (AP)—"It is absolutely inconceivable to me that Dick would land at night unless he knew exactly where he was. I believe he is going somewhere else or staying in the air until daylight."

Thomas Byrd, brother of Commander Richard E. Byrd of the America, told the Associated Press tonight.

IMPATIENT CROWD AWAITS BYRD AT LE BOURGET

LE BOURGET (France) June 30. (AP)—A notable number of scientists were among the spectators who gathered tonight hoping to witness the arrival of the American trans-Atlantic plane from France.

Many of them expressed the opinion that the voyage of Commander Richard E. Byrd would contribute more to the technical aspects of aviation than any other flight since the historic crossing of the English Channel by Blériot.

Sheldon Whitehouse, Counselor of the American Embassy, and Capt. Gen. D. Fortuny, accompanied by several attaches, proud of the fact that the American trans-Atlantic plane was the design of a Dutchman, Anthony Fokker.

One of the earliest arrivals at the field was the Netherlands Consul, Gen. D. Fortuny, accompanied by several attaches, proud of the fact that the American trans-Atlantic plane was the design of a Dutchman, Anthony Fokker.

HUNDREDS TURN BACK

Hundreds of spectators arriving at the field about 9 o'clock turned back when they learned that they would not be allowed to enter the field but must stand outside in order to comply with the police regulations for the safety of the American aviators.

At 9:15 p.m. it was announced through loud speakers that Byrd had been down over Brest some time before and would probably reach Paris between 10:30 and 10:40, French day.

Assistant War Secretary Unfolds Program Aided by Hawaii Flight

Nearly 22 Millions Ready to Increase Officers, Men and Craft

YONKERS (N. Y.) June 30. (AP)—Describing the California-Hawaii flight as a fitting climax for the first year's progress, Assistant Secretary of War Davison in charge of aeronautics today outlined the Army's program for the second twelve-month period of its five-year aviation development plan in an address before the Rotary Club here.

Praising the flight of Lieut. Matland and Hegenberger, Mr. Davison said:

"The courage and skill shown by the two pilots typify the spirit of the Army Air Corps, while the efficient performance of the plane points to the high standard set for army aircraft."

With the new fiscal year starting tomorrow, $21,891,000 will be available, he declared, for the continuation of the aviation development and "the next year will produce more men, more equipment and better army fliers."

GOAL SET FOR 1932

"There is every indication that with the support of Congress and an air-minded public this country will have an Army Air Corps," he said, "under the law enacted in 1926 establishing the five-year development program."

"By the close of 1932 this country will have an Army Air Corps," he added, "of 1630 flying officers, 80000 enlisted men, 10000 aircraft, 412 observation, 72 transport, 470 training planes and 110 aircraft of various types in war reserve."

REVIEWS PAST YEAR

In reviewing progress of the last year, the assistant secretary said that the wartime wooden training planes for reserve and National Guard flying will be completely replaced by a new training field had been established at March Field, Cal., and inaugurated for the development of new bombardment and attack planes far superior to those now in use.

Temperature of 100 deg. or more in the interior valleys prompted the Forest Service in an exhaustive series of special observations to protect the forests and brush growths of the State from a situation termed hazardous. Special warnings are sent to all rangers in national forest and meteorological data of value collected from twenty-three different stations.

These observations at various elevations, will furnish daily reports of wind, temperature, humidity, direction of wind and other vital facts, from which forecasts designed particularly for timber regions can be prepared and forwarded. An additional series of stations will be established during the month of July, Foremaster Reed said.

At the first outbreak of fire in a dangerous section, a meteorologist will be sent to the scene by airplane to take technical observations and aid in controlling the blaze.

Locally, a drop in temperature predicted for tomorrow but the forecast calls for continued excessive heat at interior points.

FLOOD DAMAGE REPAIRED

DURANGO (Colo.) June 30. (AP)—Clear the wreckage and repair the damage caused by one of the worst floods in the history of southwestern Colorado. Rivers in all sections of the basin receded.

The Army's desire to make the Honolulu flight without any hitch, the war until the men were in today and a nonchalant announcement that the flight was over "on their way to Hawaii" was also revealed.

"Matland and Hegenberger," he said, "desire to fly back and I am hopeful that they would do so, but today I received a telegram from the highest authority directing that they do not fly back. The plane probably will be left on the island for use there."

AVIATION WARNING GIVEN

Gen. Patrick Fears Rise of Air Diploma Mills

Forecasts Asia Flight Next Year

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30. (Exclusive)—Commercial aviation of the immediate future was advised to "stop, look and listen," today by Maj. Gen. Patrick, chief of the United States Army Air Service. The statement measure of success achieved in transoceanic flights may lead to the development of airplane schools as dangerous as "diploma mills" for the development of quack doctors, he warned in an address at the Hotel as the guest of the aeronautical committee of the California Development Association.

During the discourse, the general also revealed several matters pertaining to army flights.

One was the definite announcement that a higher authority has forbidden the return to San Francisco of Lieut. Matland and Hegenberger in the "Bird of Paradise," the monoplane in which they flew successfully to Honolulu.

FLIGHT TO ASIA NEXT

Another was the prediction that another year probably will witness a flight to Asia, via Honolulu.

Another was the prediction of previous reports that Lester Matland, pilot of the "Bird of Paradise," asked permission six years ago to make the hop to the "Crossroads of the Pacific," but was refused at the time because it was considered too dangerous.

In sounding the warning against too speedy development of commercial flying, Gen. Patrick pleaded that the California Development Association, whose work he accorded highest praise, use its influence to prevent the dangers from becoming real instead of potential.

The recent flight, even at this early stage, he said, "have had the effect of stimulating the youth of the country to take up flying as an occupation. There is danger that there will spring into being aviation schools which will be as injurious to the state as the diploma mills which are the diploma schools that grind out doctors."

NO RIGOROUS TESTS

"Such schools will give a pupil a certain number of hours in the air and then say: 'You're a pilot.' There will be no attempt at selectivity and the great majority of those turned out will be no more capable as pilots than are the diploma school doctors capable as physicians or surgeons."

In the army schools we have rigorous tests. Only 25 to 30 per cent of those who desire to fly are given a pilot's license. The tests have to do with the mental and physical make-up of the applicant, even going so far as to obtain detailed information as to personal habits, not only of the present but of the past. Such rigorism of detail will be lacking in the schools, existence of which constitutes a grave danger."

Other items to be guarded against, he said, will be the many manufacturers of planes and the desire of small communities, unable to support airports, to have them. It would be far better, he declared, if such communities were served by branch air lines, after the manner of railroads.

SAFETY STRESSED

R. E. Fisher, chairman of the aeronautical committee of the California Development Association, and R. B. Hale, the association's president, listened to the work of this organization with the mental and physical make-up of the applicant, even going so far as to obtain detailed information as to personal habits, not only of the present but of the past. Such rigorism of detail will be lacking in the schools, existence of which constitutes a grave danger."

"Matland and Hegenberger," he said, "desire to fly back and I am hopeful that they would do so, but today I received a telegram from the highest authority directing that they do not fly back. The plane probably will be left on the island for use there."

LITTLE THEATER PLAN DISCUSSED

Californians Give Views at Drama League Meeting

Opportunities for Service to Communities Cited

Story of Pasadena Venture's Success Set Forth

TACOMA (Wash.) June 30. (AP)—How little theaters or community theaters in one form or another may be fitted into communities in a permanent way; how they may be made self-supporting and how they may build up their popularity within their communities and serve as a lasting adjunct to the cultural and social life of the surrounding population were outlined to the Drama League of America convention today by two Californians, both formerly professional actors themselves. These were Gordon Davis, head of the dramatic department of Leland Stanford Junior University, and Gilmore Brown, director of the Pasadena Community Theater.

"What we must set out for in this work is success," said Gordon Davis. "To achieve success we must have audiences. To have audiences we must do the things that will bring audiences. We must study our fields and know what each community wants in the way of dramatic effort."

Gilmore Brown pointed to perseverance as an essential in the process of any community theater enterprise. "We started in Pasadena ten years ago with a very small group," he said. "For the first six years we lost an average of $1000 every season. We were offered an abandoned theater for $10,000 which seemed a tremendous sum to us then. We had the experience of playing to as few as eleven people."

"Today we have a theater which cost $500,000. Our audiences range from 500 to 600 persons as high as 700 and 800."

Ten Men Held in Flogging of Georgia Women

TACOMA (Ga.) June 30. (AP)—Ten men charged with having taken part in the flogging of five persons in Stephens county recently were under bond today, pending consideration of their cases by a grand jury which is to convene on July 4.

All were served with warrants served by Mrs. Martha Finley, 35 years of age, and Elsie Williams, cotton mill workers, who charged that they recognized the men among hooded men who flogged them and forced them to leave the county. The two women returned at the request of residents, who offered to support them in a rigid investigation.

The men were T. R. Lowery, foreman of a local furniture factory; Bert Lowery, J. H. Ferguson, Moore Jordan, a farmer; W. C. Acree, principal of a high school; James Alderholt, Hendrie Wiley, Fletcher Means, Elmer Clark and Charlie Thomas, the latter two railroad employees.

Four of the men, Acree, Lowery, Clark and Thomas, were under bond at the time of their arrest in connection with the flogging of Mrs. Ansel Bowers and her 16-year-old son.

TWINS CELEBRATE

Brothers Who Served in 1861 Pass Eighty-sixth Milestone

SACRAMENTO, June 30. (AP)—Judge J. M. Walling of Nevada City, Nevada county, and A. M. Walling of David City, Neb., who assert they are the oldest living twins who served their country during the Civil War recently celebrated their eighty-sixth birthday anniversary.

The twins were born in Iowa June 21, 1841, and enlisted for Civil War service on September 5, 1861. They served side by side until December 30, 1865, when they were discharged. Judge Walling, who has lived in Nevada City since 1865, is the dean of the Nevada City bar, having served during the early days as County Recorder and later as Superior Judge. He also is past department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in California.

BOEING TAKES AIR LINE TODAY

Will Run Mail from Chicago to San Francisco

New Main Route Also Plans to Take Passengers

New Declares Purpose of Service Realized

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—At midnight tonight the Boeing Airplane Company will take over from the Postoffice Department the operation of the western division of the transcontinental air-mail service between Chicago and San Francisco. The Postoffice Department will continue to operate the eastern division between Chicago and New York for one month when it will be turned over to the National Air Transport, Inc.

"This action," the Postmaster-General said, "will bring to consummation original plans of the department which were: First, to demonstrate the feasibility of through transcontinental service by air on scheduled routes for regular arrivals and departures, regardless of ordinary adverse weather conditions and flying through the hours of darkness as well as daylight, and, second, to transfer to private initiative as soon as commercial aviation companies become strong enough, not only the physical assets of the government service but the technical knowledge and information built up through the years of experience in this new field."

ENVY OF ALL EUROPE
"In building up this service the Postoffice Department gave night flying to the world and created an enterprise which, in the language of Col. Lindbergh, is the envy of all Europe."

"In turning over to private initiative the enterprise which has been so successful and which required an immense amount of painstaking care and energy to construct, the department is not leaving its child on a strange doorstep as some are inclined to believe, but is pointing it forth toward a greater and more glorious future where it will have the needed opportunity to grow and expand."

"As I have pointed out time after time, commercial aviation cannot exist by transporting mails alone any more than railroads or steamships lines could operate successfully hauling nothing but mail. Passengers must be carried not only to produce added revenue but because there is a growing demand by potential passengers for transportation by air."

"The government does not wish and should not wish to enter into a business that is essentially one for private enterprise. That of carrying either passengers or mail."

LIBRE TO AVIATION
"In putting the air-mail line under contract to commercial companies in the same relation to the Postoffice Department that is borne by the railroads of the country or by the ocean-going steamships which carry the mails, it does not mean that the Postoffice Department is losing interest in the air mail but instead is making it a lure to commercial aviation which will result in swifter expansion. Another branch of the government, the Department of Commerce, is charged with the maintenance of lighted airways and will erect and maintain beacon lights for night flying all over the country in the same way that it maintains light-houses for ships on the sea."

The Boeing Airplane Company will operate a fleet of twenty-one planes of its own manufacture of standard size to transport two passengers and the mail cargo. Virtually the entire air-mail personnel of the division, including the pilots and mechanics, will be taken over by the Boeing Company. D. B. Collier, former general superintendent of the air-mail service, occupies a similar position with the Boeing Company with headquarters at Salt Lake City, Utah.

NEW LINE'S PLANES

LEAVE CHICAGO TODAY

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP)—The first combined transcontinental mail and passenger plane service will begin operation tomorrow between Chicago and San Francisco. It will signalize retirement of the government from ownership of the air-mail line between the cities. The Boeing Air Transport, Inc., will become private operators of the line under contract with the Postoffice Department.

In addition to carrying mail, each plane in the Boeing service has been equipped with a lighted cabin to carry two passengers between Chicago and San Francisco.

A plane bound for the west coast will leave Chicago tomorrow night at 8:50 p.m., bearing mail and passengers. Another is scheduled to arrive here from San Francisco some time tomorrow.

DAM BILL PASSAGE CONCEDED

Ashurst Predicts River Measure's Success But Still Thinks It "Great Mistake"

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30. (AP)—If the Swing-Johnson Boulder Dam bill can be gotten onto the floor of the next Congress or any subsequent one, it will pass, Senator Ashurst of Arizona declared today while here on a visit.

Senator Ashurst led the Senate filibuster against the bill during the closing days of the last Congress. In making his prediction the Senator said: "Arizona is right. California, Congress and the nation are wrong in the Boulder Dam matter. But California has so dramatized the Boulder Dam issue that the outcome seems almost a foregone conclusion."

"And it is my studied opinion that if the new Swing-Johnson bill—and I am assuming that such a bill will be introduced—comes before either house of Congress, either this coming session or any subsequent session, it will pass."

"Arizona may have the guidance of superior wisdom, but it has neither the prestige nor the influence required to prevent Congress or the nation from making what we in Arizona honestly believe to be, a great mistake."

5000 More Savings Depositors Before July 12

During the 17 days of our "World Bank" savings campaign 4618 new depositors opened savings accounts with this bank—an average of 271 new customers per day.

We want to break that record between now and July 12th and add 5000 more savings depositors to our list of friends and patrons during the 11 big Savings Days in July.

To that end we will add one dollar ($1.00) to each savings account of $10.00 or more opened before July 12th. There is only ONE condition attached to this gift of a dollar

The account must remain on our books for six months, during which time at least ONE additional deposit of any amount over $1.00 must be made. This single condition having been fulfilled, we will, on January 1st, credit each account with $1.00 plus interest at four per cent.

"World Bank" Depositors Win Again—

We Will Credit You with This Extra Dollar If You Comply with the Above Conditions

This offer is open to all "World Bank" savings depositors who opened accounts during the recent campaign. It is in addition to the 50-cent thrift coupon already credited to such accounts—THAT IS, any "World Bank" depositor who will add $10.00 or more to his or her "World Bank" savings account before July 12th, will also receive the additional credit of $1.00 under the conditions stated above.

This vigorous, growing, independent bank wants YOUR savings account. Open it here—we are keenly alive to the value of your friendship—and to your account, no matter how small. There is no more convenient banking location in Los Angeles than the northwest corner of Broadway and Eighth; most everyone passes at some time during the month.

1200 Cravats ~ $1.65

Now comes one of the most dramatic moments in
"Tie-dom." Just in time for a glorious Fourth.

1200 Hand made Crepe and Satin Neck Ties in a new series of patterns and colors.

Longchamps Dots and Dashes of French origination — racy motifs in Satin. $1.65.

Picadilly Cravats — Foulards depicting the skill of England's foremost cravat makers. $1.65.

Devonshire Twills, of which it has been said, "No master of brush and palette would blend more bewitching colors than are found in these English Foulard designs."
$1.65.

Here they are! 1200 of them! Note the low price level! Don't let it cause you to underestimate the character of these ties, however. You'd probably want them at almost any price when you see them.

This is an event in which Quality plays the lead. Winning friends for Bullock's Store for Men. The low price of $1.65 is not always possible.

In Addition! 1200 Bow Ties $1.00

Butterfly and bat wing styles—this group includes a new shipment and some stock reductions to meet a new value level. Seasonable patterns—in fine quality silks.

Another episode of value to preface Fourth of July vacation preparations and incidentally win some favorable publicity for Bullock's Store for Men.

200 Fine Botany Flannel Robes at $14.85 each

Lots of men know this Bullock value. Some can't understand how such an offering of Character at the prices is possible. (Many things are possible when friend-winning is a serious pastime.)

Here is a selection of new stripes. Those colorful wide stripes that men are calling for. Smart Robes for smart beach resorts. Not everywhere can you get their like at $14.85, and a selection such as this thrown in.

Pacific Coast Doubles Title Tournament Opens at Local Tennis Club Today

SAN FRANCISCO TEAMS FAVORED

Stratford-Davies Squad is Picked to Annex

Casey-Brown Combination to Furnish Opposition

Bundy, Herd Uphold Honor of Local Division

BY RALPH HUSTON

With a record number of teams entered in the competition, the annual Pacific Coast doubles championship tournament opens today on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club. The ultimate victors are scheduled to take a trip to Boston to compete in the national championship affair, and good matches can be expected daily in the tournament, which will be played today, tomorrow, Sunday and Monday. A veterans singles event, and a boys' singles tourney are included on the program.

STRATFORD PLAYS

San Francisco teams are favored to win the championship. Gerald Stratford, who won the singles and men's doubles events in the recent Southern California championship play, is paired with Jim Davis, former Stanford star, and this team, with Ray Casey and Neil Brown, as a second strong invading squad, is expected to finish in the final match for top honors.

Casey and Brown perform today, meeting Hauser and Laird, a local combination in what promises to be the feature match of the day on the championship court at 3 o'clock. Another promising match is scheduled at 2

YOUTHFUL NET STARS ENTER MIDWICK TITLE TOURNAMENT

Entries in all three divisions of the Southern California junior championship tennis tournament, which is to be staged on the courts of the Midwick Tennis Club the 7th to 10th inst., are pouring in to Walter Westbrook, professional, in pleasing quantities. The closing date has been set for Tuesday, all entries received up to that time being eligible for the title play.

Ben Harwood, clever Pasadena youth, Keith Gledhill, who played in the recent Southern California open tournament, and Ted Easton, promising La Jolla player, are prominent contenders. Doubles teams will include Robinson and Gledhill, Hastings and Harwood, and Bennett and Phillips.

DE LARA ENTERED

Pack De Lara, municipal singles doubles and mixed doubles champion, paired with Ed Weener, plays Robert Variell and Warlick at 8 o'clock. Variell is a net star of the University of California of some years ago, who is attempting a comeback. Cliff Herd and Tom Bundy, expected to compose one of the strongest local teams in the tournament, meet E. Smith and an unnamed partner at 1 o'clock. The schedule for today, as announced by Capt. Gray:

11 O'CLOCK
Near and Sellers vs. Herd and White.
Patterson and Patterson vs. Willis and Bennett.
Mott and La Case vs. Harwood and Hastings.
12 O'CLOCK
Herd and Korman vs. Davis and Partner.
Bundy vs. L. Patterson.

PAUL JONES FAVORED TO BEAT GREEK

Veteran Matmen Pick Texan to Take Match from London

Paul Jones, the wrestling fool from Houston, Tex., will defeat Jim London, Greek heavyweight champion, when they meet in a return bout at the Olympic Wednesday night, according to several veteran matmen who witnessed the last encounter between the two.

Jones, they claim, was stronger and more active than London expected he would be, and the two additional weeks of training he will have had before the coming battle he should hand London the first defeat the big-nosed Greek has received from anyone besides a champion.

London, the experts point out, is purely a defensive wrestler, although he is a very aggressive one. When Jones's attacks began to come too fast and his punishment too severe, the Greek began to wobble, and the offensive and try to subdue the Texan cyclone.

But the tactics he used against him against his past opponents failed to work against Jones.

Several times when London had Jones on the mat, the Greek was a headlock or short-arm scissor, he tried to shake Jones into submission. But Jones kept coming down under this punishment. The Texan would come right up again, never giving London a chance to rest. Even the punishing London would usually deal out with his headlocks failed to phase the Texan as London expected. These veteran observers declared.

COCHET WINS OVER TILDEN

for Helen Wills to keep the Stars and Stripes flying over the Wimbledon stadium by reaching the snail of the women's singles, eliminating Joan Fry of England in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1.

Then, paired with Miss Ryan, Miss Wills entered the quarter-finals of the women's doubles by defeating the Misses P. Draisfield and H. Hoparth of England, 6-2, 6-1. The United States thus closed the day with two victories, and two defeats, while France further strengthened her position in the world of tennis by making the men's singles an all-French affair.

Whatever the results of the other matches to be thousands gathered to watch the famous match today, the Cochet-Tilden encounter.

The little five-foot six-inch Frenchman, with the heart of a lion, was the tennis David who stopped the Goliath Tilden when the latter appeared as if he only needed to stretch out his hand to receive the victory. Snatching a leaf from the old book, which appeared to have been laid aside by Tilden, the cool little Frenchman sported him two sets and five games to one in the third and then sailed serenely to victory.

"I used to win that sort of match once," Tilden said sadly after his defeat.

The tall American, during the first two sets, displayed such sacrificing tennis as perhaps had never been seen on any tennis court, and then, pale and haggard, staggered through the last half-hour of play with staggering knees.

There was no bad tennis in the match. Tilden played the fireworks in the early play and then Cochet brought the drama to a close by one of his most inspired exhibitions. Confidence never deserted the game little Frenchman even when shaking his head in dejection after futile attempts to return his first services.

He was still filled with determination at the third set, but he was two sets and with one game to Tilden's five in the third with which to stare off what seemed an inevitable defeat, and then Tilden faltered.

Some say it was overconfidence and others that he had shot his bolt, but whatever the reason, Cochet leaped into the breach at the psychological moment and before Tilden could recover he was off six straight games and with them the third set.

This was the turning point of the match. Cochet turned to a little the woman sitting in the stands and waved his hand while he smiled with confidence. She was Henri's wife.

"My heart will win," she said in a rather tremulous voice to the French players who had been sitting crestfallen through the first two sets. She was right, Tilden never again seriously threatened Cochet even when leading 3-2 in the fifth and deciding set.

ALMOST KISSED
When it was all over, Bill staggered up to the net to shake hands, the victor throwing his racket high in the air, vaulted the net and clasped his arms around the American for a moment appearing to be on the verge of kissing him.

Tilden walked off the court apparently not noticing the tremendous applause that both he and Cochet were receiving from the crowded stands.

Cochet now leads Tilden two victories to one in the three matches they have played since the American championships of 1926.

The Borotra-La Coste match, in which Borotra scored his first victory over La Coste in some years, was a den-Cochet encounter. With the men's singles final definitely an all-French affair, neither player seemed to care which one won.

Miss Wills, in her victory over Miss Fry, in the women's singles, was much more impressive than Senator De Alvarado on her way to the final today. The American girl played in business-like fashion with the prompt intention of winning as promptly as possible.

Senator De Alvarado, on the other hand, had to play her best to defeat Miss Wills and only succeeded after dropping the first set, 6-2.

Although no official announcement had been made tonight, it was expected that the finals in the singles would be played on Saturday and the finals in the doubles on Monday.

OLYMPIC AUDITORIUM WILL SHOW MOVIES OF BIG BOUT

The Olympic management is preparing to turn the Grand-avenue boxing arena into a motion-picture theater beginning the 8th inst., when the Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures open there for a limited run. The picture will be shown twice nightly for several days.

In addition to the historic battle in which Dempsey lost his heavyweight title to the marine, part of the Dempsey-Carpenter pictures and some of the Ojai comeback-camp stuff will be tacked on.

This will give the fans a chance to see Dempsey at his best against Carpenter and at his worst against Tunney and as he is for his comeback fight with Jack Sharkey the 21st inst. in New York at the Polo Grounds.

The preview of the picture will probably be held next Wednesday.

And the boys who win the junior title this year will be Olympic material for 1928, and the backbone of the 1932 Olympic team which will represent the United States against the world at Los Angeles.

Maloney Wins Scrap on Foul From Gorman

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP)—Jim Maloney of Boston was awarded the decision over Bud Gorman, Kenosha (Wis.) heavyweight, in the fourth round of their ten-round bout here tonight on a foul.

In a crouch, Gorman led a left hook, so delicately striking Maloney in the groin. Maloney collapsed. An examination developed that he was unable to continue.

The first and third rounds were fairly even and Gorman had the advantage in the second.

Vincentini will take the main bout would be staged later today at the Manhattan gymnasium.

On this basis Jimmy Dougherty wired Matchmaker Wadham yesterday en route here from Chicago that Godfrey would be defending the black belt against Clisby here. Dougherty will arrive here Saturday.

Godfrey has never made much claim to the black title since he is ranked by Dougherty as being among the first three heavies of the world.

Tunney is No. 1, Dempsey No. 2 and Godfrey No. 3, according to the Leveville Baron's assay of the big fellows.

Both Tunney and Dempsey have refused to box Godfrey, but since Tunney is the torch-bearer and Dempsey the ex-torch-bearer Dougherty can't cut big George in ahead of them just yet.

Godfrey will box on the same show with Dempsey and Sharkey July 21. His match with Clisby here will be his last showing for some time. Clisby has fought his way to the top of the black contenders by winning his last eight or nine starts by knockouts.

On this basis Jimmy Dougherty wired Matchmaker Wadham yesterday en route here from Chicago that Godfrey would be defending the black belt against Clisby here. Dougherty will arrive here Saturday.

Godfrey has never made much claim to the black title since he is ranked by Dougherty as being among the first three heavies of the world.

Tunney is No. 1, Dempsey No. 2 and Godfrey No. 3, according to the Leveville Baron's assay of the big fellows.

Both Tunney and Dempsey have refused to box Godfrey, but since Tunney is the torch-bearer and Dempsey the ex-torch-bearer Dougherty can't cut big George in ahead of them just yet.

Godfrey will box on the same show with Dempsey and Sharkey July 21. His match with Clisby here will be his last showing for some time. Clisby has fought his way to the top of the black contenders by winning his last eight or nine starts by knockouts.

Club Today CLAIMS TITLE

Heavyweight Championship with Clisby Tuesday

George Godfrey claims that he will win the heavyweight championship Tuesday night when he meets Vincentini on his return from the prominent black contender, at the Olympic club. Vincentini, who has just had one of his most brilliant looking bouts, was defeated by Clisby in a fight which was a squab with naudy.

SQUASH
Sandy Wilson provided a feature of the Hollywood Athletic Club squash tournament yesterday when he defeated Kent Redwine, the man who defeated the defending champion, Holman. Wilson won from Redwine 21-17, 21-10.

The playing of Wilson is probably the sensation of the tournament. He won from Ken Albright in the first round, 21-8, 21-10. Dan Jones, national champion, will play Wilson in the second round, 21-7.

PARIS TRIP REQUESTS POURING IN
Legion Men in Rush to Get Reservations Before Closing Date

INDIANAPOLIS, June 30. (Reuter)—An avalanche of reservations for the Paris convention of the American Legion, September 15 to 25, hit national headquarters following the announcement that July 15 is the closing date. It was announced today by Howard F. Savage, national commander, that the Legion is now in a position to accept reservations for the convention.

Travel plans perfected by the Legion will save the average veteran $200 over the cost of a similar trip at ordinary travel rates. Many privileges such as freedom of the ship, waiver of passport and visa fees, elimination of steamship tax, 50 per cent reduction in rail rates and a rousing reception abroad have been obtained for veterans in the official Legion movement.

At least all of the official Legion ships are completely booked and veterans who plan to go to France and have not made reservations must do so at once or the opportunity will be lost for all time to join the Legion's history-making pilgrimage.

Engineer Ready to Study Salt River Project
PHOENIX, June 30. (AP)—Harry T. Cory, internationally known engineering expert, arrived here today as the personal representative of Secretary of the Interior Work to make a comprehensive survey of the Salt River Valley Water Users Association and to make a report thereon to Dr. Elwood Mead, head of the Federal Reclamation Service.

Habrán en el Fisco un Superávit de $635,000,000. Junio 30.—Va a acrecentarse mucho a $635,000,000 el superávit de la Tesorería de la Nación, al terminar esta noche el año fiscal, según datos obtenidos hoy. Se calcula que el superávit de este año fiscal será de $635,000,000.

El ministro de Hacienda de México, don Carlos de la Torre, declaró hoy que el gobierno mexicano no se opone a la intervención de Estados Unidos en la guerra civil de España, siempre que esta sea de carácter humanitario.

El señor de la Torre declaró que el gobierno mexicano no se opone a la intervención de Estados Unidos en la guerra civil de España, siempre que esta sea de carácter humanitario.

OAKLAND, Junio 30.—En opinión de Howard G. Weitz, director de la Preparación Técnica de Oakland, que ha estudiado largo tiempo los usos y costumbres de los indios, el gobierno de los Estados Unidos debe tomar a su cargo las obligaciones para con el indio.

SHANGHAI, Junio 30.—Las noticias recibidas aquí hoy de Hankow, cabecera del gobierno radical nacionalista que preside Euzen Chen, si bien escasean, se interpretan en el sentido de que está habiendo allí importantes cambios, sacados, según se presume, por el ultimatum de Chiang Kai-shek, el líder nacionalista moderado, y del general Fan Yu-Hsiang, por el que se exige la expulsión de los rusos, la disolución de las unidades obreras radicales y la abolición del comunismo en general.

Un radiograma naval británico dice que el ruso Miguel Borodin, consejero de los nacionalistas de Hankow, partirá esta noche con destino desconocido; que todos los rusos, salvo los miembros del personal del consulado, saldrán dentro de veinticuatro horas; que han sido disueltos ciertos sindicatos obreros; que quedado abolido el sistema de piquetes, y que hay gran movimiento de tropas al otro lado del río Wu-chang para guardar la estación inicial ferroviaria.

Se Remueve a un Miembro de la Comisión del Plano de la Ciudad
Ayer, la última tormenta del Consejo Municipal saliente produjo la sustitución de la señora Estela C. Holman, secretaria del municipio, por el señor W. J. Miller, propietario urbano de Hollenbeck Heights y miembro de la anterior comisión del mismo ramo.

El alcalde Cray dirigió ayer un mensaje al Consejo, manifestando que, como el abogado de ciudad había dictaminado que el nombramiento de la señora Holman, hecho hace dos años por el alcalde, no estaba de acuerdo con las disposiciones de la constitución municipal, dicha señora había estado ocupando su puesto ilegítimamente, motivo por el cual el alcalde nombra en su lugar al señor Miller.

La remoción de la señora Holman fue el último acto de la administración municipal de Parrot y Cray para castigar al municipio de Parrot, que después de la ira de la administración cuando denunció los extras del drenaje de tormentas de la calle de West Adams y pidió el cese de Dunn, comisario de Obras Públicas, que llevaba la voz de la administración en la Dirección de Obras Públicas. Charles Infantines para Chiquillos de Escuela.

De repente averiguaron que ya Washington se había ido (All at once they found that Washington had gone). El y sus hombres habían emprendido la marcha (He and his men had marched away). Los soldados franceses que habían venido a ayudar se habían ido con él (The French soldiers that had come to help him had gone with him).

Nadie entendió lo que eso significaba (Nobody knew what it meant). Ni los mismos hombres de Washington sabían adónde iban (Washington's own men did not know where they were going).

TWO MINERS KILLED, TWO HURT IN BLAST
BIRME (Aris) June 30. (AP)—Two miners were killed and two others seriously injured when the men drilled into unexploded dynamite on the 1800 foot level of the Copper Queen mine here today. The dead are Dallas A. Harris and Walter C. Dexter. Reed J. Hargus and John F. White, who were working nearby in the shaft, were seriously injured.

Okmulgee Bad Man Admits to Stage Fright When He Makes "Personal Appearance" Before Crowds

OKMULGEE (Okla.) June 30. (AP)—Two curtain calls were made today by Matthew Kimes, Okmulgee county bad actor, who was returned here last night by a convoy of Sheriff's officers to face a murder trial in connection with the robbery of two banks at Beggs, Okla., last month, when W. J. MacNally, Beggs Chief of Police, was killed.

Paraded before large crowds of curious persons twice during the day, the youth who became notorious because of the recklessness of his exploits admitted that he was embarrassed as a schoolboy speaking his first piece.

Kimes consented to appear in public after the County Jail had been besieged by folk who expressed a desire to see him.

A crowd estimated at 2000 witnessed his first appearance, and the second audience was as large.

Leading the manacled bandit out one door of the Courthouse into the eye of a motion-picture camera, the officers conducted him through a scrambling crowd to the opposite side of the building, where he was helped up to a window ledge in full sight of the audience.

The youth shifted his feet awkwardly and merely grinned when some of the spectators cried "Speech! Speech!" He ignored his broad-brimmed hat, however, when some one told him a woman had requested it.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND ROBBERIES CONFESSED
CINCINNATI, June 30. (AP)—During the past twenty-seven years his gang committed 15,000 robberies in 7000 churches in the United States and Canada to obtain plunder totaling $11,000, Ray Madden, arrested recently in Upper Sandusky, O., confessed to detectives today.

FIRE FIGHTERS RECRUITED
SAN JOSE, June 30. (AP)—Fire fighters are being recruited today to fight a mountain fire which has burned over 35,000 acres of brush and pasture land near Clifty Springs.

CHEERFUL CHAFF

BY READERS

WRITE FOR THE "MOVIES" AND WIN CASH PRIZES
The Los Angeles Times produces a popular fun reel called "Cheerful Chaff," consisting of the drollest and funniest sketches by readers. Twelve $1 prizes are awarded each week, the names and addresses of winners together with prize-winning jokes appearing on the screen.
Everyone is invited to send jokes. No formal letter is necessary. Just let down your jokes, as many as you wish, sign your name and address and mail to "Cheerful Chaff Editor," Los Angeles Times. Jokes for the screen must not exceed thirty words.
Winning jokes too long or otherwise not adapted for screen use, are accorded a place of honor on the Times comic page, receiving a souvenir of acknowledgment.

"What, giving up already?" said a friendless to a youthful angler. You must bring more patience next time.
"Patience?" I'm out of it, mister, it's worms."
R. L. Riley, R. 2, Box 368, San Gabriel, Cal.

Teacher: Give me a sentence with the word "willow" in it.
Sammy: I don't like our harbor; it's full of willows.
C. V. Walter, 211 North Hoover street.

Teacher: Where does the ostrich lay its eggs?
Small boy: In museums.
Christina Burt, 235 South Damask, Inglewood, Cal.

Lady: Do you handle honey.
Grocer: Why, yes.
Lady: Then give me some you haven't handled.
De Witt Hutton, care R. K. Bishop, R.F.D. No. 1, Box 2, Orange, Cal.

"And then," said the visitor, describing her encounter with a tramp. "I fainted."
"Little Willie gazed at her with awe," "died!" With your right or your left?" A. J. Kerr, Los Angeles Transfer Company, 317 Crocker street.

Father, shaving, was lathering his face the second time, when asked by daughter, who had been watching: "Oh, Daddy, how many coats are you going to give your face?" Ardythe Krebs, Victorville, Cal.

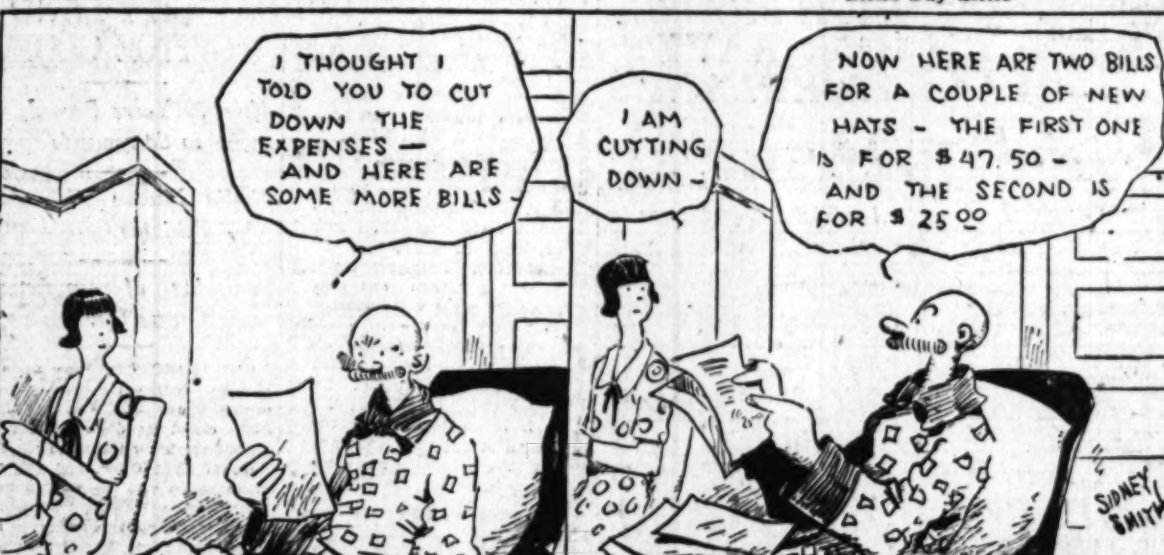

Father: Look here, dear; I don't mind your sitting up late with that young man of yours, but I do object to his taking my morning paper when he goes.
Helen Norden, 209 North Avenue 54, Los Angeles, Cal.

Man (speaking a stenographer at a commercial school): How about speed?
Teacher: Well, the last girl we placed married her employer in a week.
Henrietta Moses, Box 112, Perris, Cal.

Aunt Susan (after a visit to her cousin in the city): The style that Harold & Clara puts on is terrible. Why, they even have separate wash water in the bathroom. I know, because I saw one faucet marked "H" and the other "C."
R. Porter, 2811 West Sixtieth street.

Mrs. H.: Make up your mind Henry, no more wine, song and women.
Mr. Henpeck: I don't care if the country goes dry and I never did care for jazz, but I didn't think women would be abolished.
Mrs. E. Wackerle, 345 East Ninth street, Long Beach, Cal.

ARGENTINA ENVOY HERE ON VACATION

Veteran Diplomat Delights in Southland After Life in Many Parts of Globe

Although his lengthy service in the diplomatic forces of the country has taken him to distant lands, Robert Woods Bliss, newly-appointed Argentine envoy here, is delighted to be in California.

Mr. Bliss did not come to Southern California on business, but for a pleasure trip, before departing for his new post in Buenos Aires in August.

SEVEN JULIAN SUITS BROUGHT

Receivers Seek to Recover in Usury Actions

Mass Attack Will be Made on Indictments

Case Set for 11th Inst. as Fifty-five Arraigned

Receivers for the Julian Petroleum Corporation, struggling in financial difficulties because of stock overvaluation, yesterday took steps to replenish the treasury of the concern by filing seven civil suits based on asserted violations of the usury law for the recovery of approximately $100,000.

The suits are for usury, and the receivers are seeking to recover the money under false pretenses and to violate the usury law.

CRAIL IS GOING AFTER ARIZONA

Congressman to Ask State be Made Territory Again

Says Her Colorado Stand Amounts to Rebellion

To Urge Congress to Repeal Admission Act

Representative Joe Crail of the Tenth Congress District announced in an address to the Democratic Luncheon Club, meeting at the Alhambra yesterday, that he will introduce at the coming session of Congress a joint resolution stripping Arizona of her statehood and causing her to revert to the status of a territory.

Mr. Crail said in his speech that Arizona has broken her pledge to the other states of the Union, has "legally" annulled and renounced the Constitution and its treaty made at the time of admission in 1910, through the action of her state representatives in the recent session of Congress in filibustering the defeat of the Hiram-Johnson Boulder Canyon dam measure.

Mr. Crail maintains that further action for his contemplated action is justified in the general case of Arizona to levy taxes upon power to be developed at the contemplated dam, whereas its treaty signed at the time of its admission as one of the forty-eight states contained an agreement not to tax lands or property within its borders belonging to the United States or reserved for its use.

WHAT HE PROPOSES

Mr. Crail said in part: "At the next session of Congress I shall take the first opportunity to offer a joint resolution of Congress to repeal and annul the act admitting Arizona to the Union as a state, and to restore it to the condition of a territory in which it was in 1910."

Arizona has broken its pledged word to the other states of the Union, it has violated, actually and in effect, the Constitution of the United States and its treaty made with the United States when it was admitted to statehood. It has repudiated its solemn obligations. It is guilty of the gravest perfidy. It has forfeited all right to the respect and consideration of the other states of the Union and of the United States.

When Arizona was admitted to statehood in 1910 it entered into a solemn treaty with the United States by which, among other things, it agreed to:

(1) To disclaim all right and title to the unappropriated and ungranted public land lying within its borders.

(2) That no taxes should be imposed by the state upon lands or property therein belonging to the United States or reserved for its use.

(3) To reserve to the United States all rights and powers for carrying out of the federal reclamation act for the construction of irrigation works and for the reclamation of arid lands, to the extent that Arizona had reserved a territory.

(4) That these provisions should be made a part of the state constitution and should be so worded as to preclude the making by any future constitutional amendment of any change or abrogation thereof in whole or in part without the consent of Congress.

These provisions were duly made a part of the state constitution of Arizona, without any dissent or objection, and by a large majority of the people and for more than fifteen years no objection was made and Arizona held forth to the world that it was happy under the terms of the reclamation act and the federal reclamation act.

For years Arizona has been blocking the construction of a high dam at Boulder Canyon on the claim that the Colorado River belongs to the state of Arizona and that the dam could not be built by the government until the federal government had purchased the state of Arizona.

At the meeting of the trustees yesterday, besides Mr. Robinson, were Dr. Robert A. Millikan, head of the California Institute of Technology, Dr. George Ellery Hale, former director of the Mt. Wilson observatory, Dr. Pritchett, the new member of the board, and Dr. M. P. Parrish, director of research at the Huntington Library.

Archer M. Huntington of New York, a cousin of the late philanthropist, was unable to attend the meeting. He is also a trustee.

Dr. Parrish announced that six additional research associates would be retained in the near future to classify and list the famous library collection, and to describe the contents of the library by publication from time to time. A great many of the manuscripts and priceless originals have never been thoroughly listed and described and their contents rectified.

The Lancer

Harry Carr

THE conviction of Dorothy Mackay is a symptom. The conviction of Mrs. Carr is another symptom. The first woman to go to the gallows will also be a symptom. Being an attractive and pulchritudinous lady is becoming a handicap before a jury rather than a sure ticket to freedom. They could get away with it when all the jurors were men; but a vamp finds it hard going before a jury of her peers.

HIGH-PRICED GIN

Incidentally, the wind-up of young Kelly and this Mackay girl is the most complete tragedy I have ever known in the theater. Six months ago they seemed to have the world in their hands. Now they are completely wiped out. I hope they liked the gin. It was the most expensive bottle of liquor ever served.

FAME!

When Lindbergh started for Paris one of the news agencies, which keeps a finger on the flicking pulse, sent out twenty-five photographs of the event.

When Commander Byrd started the same agency sent out three. The public has come to be like a child tiring into cookies and throwing them away to bite into another cookie. They are only interested in the thing on the shell and not the thing inside.

To be frank about it, Lindbergh will be very lucky if anybody wants to look at him in the street two years from now. By that time we will be whipping ourselves hoarse over a young lady with a trained cecilia or an author of fapper stories.

KNEE

The agitation over the proper length of lady teachers' skirts has gone shrieking to the top in South Africa.

Wasteful is to be done about it. I don't know, but it would seem to be a trivial matter to force the educated mind to wallow around in dust-sweeping skirts when the world knows knee.

There is nothing singularly immoral about school-teacher knee that the world has thus far discovered.

SAUSAGE AND CALES

Now that Mrs. Coolidge is back on the job as housekeeper, the President is no doubt getting his sausage and stack of wheels in the morning—as his latest years.

This may not seem important; but it is. I, for one, couldn't vote for a President of the United States who drank tea for breakfast.

Sausage and what cakes would probably make my friend, Dr. Philip Lovell, who writes "Care of the Body," simply curl up and die with the vast effort to express his opinion. It is, I am sure, deplorable, but it is a diet, but it sounds so very reliable.

No, I could come to a country presided over by a President who ate sausage on cake. I'll bet Mussolini drinks prunes and acid vitriol and eats raw meat.

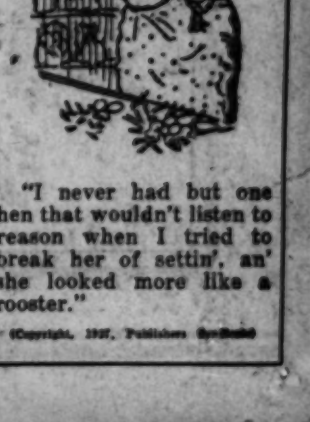

IRISH-AMERICANS TO PICNIC ON MONDAY

Irish-American residents of Los Angeles will have their annual picnic and outing at Rose Hill Park Monday, Patrick O'Neill, Margaret Duffy and Mrs. Catherine Cook Sharp will sing Irish melodies and patriotic airs, and an exhibition of folk dances will be given by Eileen Ford, William Sullivan and Mrs. O'Neill, Frank J. Ryan and Mrs. Ryan, and others.

The various Irish organizations of the city are co-operating for the affair. Peter W. Murray will be chairman of the day.

REFLECTIONS

J. A. GRAVES
"Is 'dusted'?" That coarse-sheered beast, Mayor and the entire ring of gangster administration in this city was overhauled up told them that the court was working under union hours. If the judge is a true unionite it is to be supposed that, like the plumber and the day laborer under the city water board, he takes the time consumed in going from his home, out to and from the Courthouse, out of his untroubled eight-hour day and also the time lost in posing, in the courtroom, with the prisoner at the bar, for his photograph, so that his actual working time would be cut to possibly seven hours, or less.

No wonder Los Angeles county is crying for more judges! Possibly I am too old-fashioned for these modern judges. Possibly it has become the custom for judges to be photographed, during the criminal trials, as a means of broadcasting to the public, through the press, their profound judicial appearance and qualifications. If so, I would say, with the Hon. T. R. McFarland, a former able, honest and fearless judge of the Supreme Court of this State, "It is a damn bad custom."

All signs point to the nomination of President Coolidge by the Republican party for another term in the Presidential chair. He has made an admirable President. He has not allowed the politicians to stampede him into hasty action. He has taken his time and then acted deliberately when action was necessary. His administration has been patriotic and statesmanlike. He is endowed with the best of all qualities in a public man, an abundance of good, hard, common sense. He has been patient under criticism. When he reaches the conclusion that criticism has gone far enough he gives utterance to his thoughts and annihilates his detractors. I shall earnestly support him for re-election.

WAR COMING
There is trouble on the land, there is sorrow on the sea; and the prophets grimly stand, crying "War" and "Woe is me!" In a recent magazine there were diagrams and charts showing that the peace we're in is a little while longer, and the battle flags will fly, and the bones of butchered men will be piled exceeding high. And the famous human race, it has a future quite immense, it has beauty, it has grace, but it hasn't any sense. If the race were qualified for the task of pounding and smashing would not sit in prison, shaking sabers in the hand. It's a snow-old human race; it's protesting all the time, saying war is a disgrace and an outrage and a crime. But it takes things sitting down when another war is framed, when the war lords wear a crown and the generals are named. Noisy propaganda sharks say, "To battle we must go," and the race of every market seely matters, "That is so." If the race had any sense there would be no war on earth, not a gun in evidence, only harmony and mirth. Interview a thousand whites all of them, white, black or tan, and you will find eight or ten are opposed to scraps and fights, have no wish to butcher men. But, alas, the ten or eight, with an error in labor, will go talking and hate till they start shooting war. There is balance in the crowd will step forward, sword in hand; for the race is not endowed with the sense for pounding and smashing. If all men who stand for peace, would be firm and steady, yield, then, perhaps, the noise might cease on the sudden battle field.

UNCOVERING THE PAST
"A library is the index to a civilization" might well be the motto of the archeologists who are working on the excavation of Heracleum. While they will unearth many of the physical phenomena that characterized the ancient city, their great desire is to recover Latin texts which will illuminate the history, the literature and the people of that of some earlier period.

It is upon Heracleum that the hopes of scholars rest for recovery of some lost book of Livy or the final text of Vergil, whose contemporaries wondered how he could find so much time to write and still have time to read, and how he could find so much time to read and still have time to write. Pompeii, associated in legend with Heracleum, had not yielded any such treasure. All traces of paper were destroyed by the ash that buried the city. But Heracleum was rescued in lava, which hardened and may have preserved a few fragments of which it could boast. These would be particularly important, since the city was at the midway stage of change, half Greek and half Roman, when it was entombed.

It may turn out that we owe a great debt to some citizen of Heracleum, who unmindful of fame, thinking simply of his own pleasure, gathered a library which was destined to have a value of which he could not have dreamed. (New York Evening Post.)

ONE YEAR OR ANOTHER
A 10-year-old Franklin girl, in learning to ship, was told by her mother to return two pairs of shoes to the shoe store, the mother having taken them out on approval. The little girl, wishing to make some excuse for not buying either pair, when the clerk approached her, stammered and said:

"Please, sir, I do not want either pair. One is too little and the other is too small." (Indianapolis News.)

HARMONY NEEDED
First Wife: I told my husband about those gowns that are selling for a song.

The Stars' Choice of Hollywood Dry points unerringly to the finest ginger ale in all the world

TO HOLLYWOOD come the world's finest products, seeking the patronage of Filmdom's connoisseurs. For their approbation is the crown of supreme quality.

One ginger ale alone—Hollywood Dry—has won. Not ordinary approval, but endorsement so sweeping that every bottle is embossed with the picture of a world-famous star. Thus Hollywood Dry is distinguished above all others. Thus it stands without question as the finest ginger ale in all the world.

This beverage that won the stars awaits you. The finer flavor... the exquisite blend of true Jamaica ginger... the smoothness, mellowness and amazing "life" offer you a new ginger ale thrill.

You, too, will have all your previous conceptions of ginger ale goodness surpassed—when you call for "the drink of the stars."

NEW HOSPITAL UNIT COMPLETE

Hollywood Institution to Open Annex Monday

Dedication Ceremony Not to be Conducted

Wing Will Add 150 Beds; Cost $400,000

Minus the usual dedication and formal opening ceremonies the new $400,000 unit of the Hollywood Hospital, 1322 North Vermont avenue, will be in full operation and ready for occupancy next Monday. It was announced yesterday by Dr. Thomas R. Ponton, superintendent. The great demand for hospital service, he said, makes it necessary to move in with the greatest possible speed and efficiency.

The east wing, as the new unit is called, will add 150 beds to the hospital, and in addition to being supplied with all the newest in medical equipment, it boasts a number of unusual features. There will be, for example, two large roof spaces which will be given over entirely to the sunlight treatment for tubercular patients. There is a comfortably furnished sitting-room on each floor for visitors who have to wait for admittance to the rooms. A central radio receiving room is connected with every bed in the hospital by individual ear phones. Each room connects with a bath and there is a telephone in every room.

MODERN NURSERY
Dr. Ponton said the hospital is particularly proud of its new nursery, equipped to take care of sixty babies, with special diet kitchens, bathing and examination rooms. The inside walls of the nursery rooms are of glass, so that visitors may see the children without going into the room.

At present the hospital has a staff of 160 members and with the opening of the east wing it will be doubled, making a nurse to every one and a half patients. The ward rooms, which have from two to six beds, are equipped just as completely as the $15 a day rooms, Dr. Ponton said, and every section of the hospital, of which the east wing is an independent unit in itself.

FOOD SERVICE
Food service will all be from the east wing, where the most modern devices are employed for scientific preparation and serving of the meals. This department of the hospital service has been so perfected, Dr. Ponton stated, that 160 meals can be served in less than a minute. The members of the staff on duty obtain their meals in the hospital cafeteria and there are special rooms for the staff officers, special nurses and the like.

Future plans of the hospital include the fitting up of roof gardens for the patients, a nurses' home directly back of the east wing and tennis courts for the nurses. The establishment of a fund for assistance work also is a dream for the future, the doctors said, whereby, without making it charity work, those who would not want to go to a general hospital may be helped at a nominal cost.

METHODIST HOSPITAL FUND DRIVE GAINS HEADWAY

The general citizenship campaign for the Methodist Hospital of Southern California, to raise $200,000 by July 27 as this summer's unit of an ultimate goal of $800,000, is making headway, according to reports from headquarters.

This hospital, organized and opened eighteen years ago, in a small way, its thousand patients being free patients cared for in the Deaconess Home, has now a capacity of 225 beds; seven surgeries; a nursery accommodating fifty babies. Last year 5386 patients were cared for, 842 being "courtesy" patients, and 2778 surgical operations were performed. It is now up against the logical results of its own success. It must have immediate funds to meet bonds that are maturing and notes that are due. The $200,000 now being asked is imperative to the institution.

The primary interest before the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, now in session at Whittier, is the Methodist Hospital and its present campaign for $200,000. Today's program was given entirely to the hospital. There were 400 women present this morning, 263 of whom were voting delegates.

Retiring Head of Chest Given High Tribute

Retiring as general manager and secretary of the Community Welfare Federation of Los Angeles, which post he had held since its organization, George M. Babcock yesterday was presented by the board of directors with an engraved copy of resolutions commending him for his zeal and efforts in furthering the federation's work.

Walter L. Thornton of this city will succeed Babcock as general manager and secretary.

Following are the resolutions adopted by the board of directors:

Whereas, Mr. George M. Babcock, for three years past, has been the efficient manager of the Los Angeles Community Welfare Federation, and, whereas, he has given his entire time, energy and constructive efforts to the welfare of the community, and, whereas, he has been a high caliber and a true leader of the community, his institution to membership and the general public, and,

Resolved: That as a mark of esteem, the board of directors of the Los Angeles Community Welfare Federation, do hereby express its appreciation to him for his constructive work in this great cause.

Resolved: That the foregoing resolution be printed in the columns of the local press, and the daily newspaper, and an engraved copy presented to Mr. Babcock.

GABLES CLUB HEAD NOW PROUD FATHER

J. Ward Cohen, president of the Gables Beach Club, was distributing smiles, cigars and other tokens yesterday following the announcement that he was the father of a five and one-half-pound daughter. The important event occurred early Wednesday morning at the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. Mrs. Cohen, known as "The Girl" on the screen as Jacqueline Saunders, explained that the infant has been named Maryann Jane Cohen, and will receive callers two weeks hence at the Cohen residence at 621 Hillcrest Road, Beverly Hills.

BOY LOSES LEG UNDER TRAIN

Lads Steel Ride on Freight Cars to Pay Visit to Airport

Two boys "hopped" a freight train near their homes yesterday afternoon to go to an airport. In getting off at Slauson and Western avenues, one of them, Bruce Regan, 8 years of age, living at 323 West Fifty-sixth street, fell under the moving cars and his right leg was amputated. He was taken to the Santa Fe Hospital. His companion, who escaped injury, was Patrick McCormick, 9, of 335 West Fifty-fifth street.

PSEUDO CITY AGENT GETS TERM IN JAIL

S. T. LeFever Convicted of Getting Money by False Pretense as Solicitor

Convicted by a jury on a charge of obtaining money by false pretense, Stacy T. LeFever yesterday was sentenced by Municipal Judge Frederickson to serve sixty days in the City Jail.

LeFever was charged in addition with one count of petty larceny. The two misdemeanor charges were based on his asserted collection of money from local business men for advertising space in an old copy of the regulations of the City Health Department. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the petty larceny charge.

According to testimony the man represented himself as working under the authorization of City Health Officer Parrish.

It was further charged that LeFever and Harry McCormick, who previously pleaded guilty and is under a suspended sentence, also used a 1926 stilet of the Los Angeles City Planning Commission in soliciting funds.

On notice of defense counsel for LeFever that immediate appeal will be taken, Judge Frederickson fixed appeal bond at $500.

PENALTY IN WARD CLUB CASE FIXED

Rissman Has Alternative of Fine or Term in Jail; Appeal Notice Filed

Daniel Rissman, only official of the Twelfth Ward Republican Club to be convicted by a jury in connection with the organization's asserted "tagging" activities in their recent trial, yesterday was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or serve ninety days in jail. Sentence was passed by Municipal Judge Frederickson on young Rissman's conviction on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Attorney Nathan O. Freedman immediately filed notice of appeal after Judge Frederickson had denied a motion for a new trial and had imposed sentence. Appeal bond was fixed by the court at $500, which was posted.

Four other charges against young Rissman brought against him by the jury on instruction by Judge Frederickson. Robert Hickey and J. M. Rissman, other officials of the club and co-defendants in the action also were acquitted by the jury under instructions from the court.

With the sentencing of Rissman yesterday, Judge Frederickson ended his first Municipal Court assignment in Division 7, his handling miscellaneous jury cases. This morning he will take over the court at San Pedro. Municipal Judge Blake will take charge in the jury division.

Beating Given Girl Blamed on Bootleg Liquor

Bootleg liquor was a source of considerable pain in the life of Glenn Barnhart, 15 years of age, according to Detective Lieutenant Lucas in his report on file in Municipal Judge Turney's court against Homer Rice, 1323 Myrtle street, charged with possession of liquor.

Rice was arrested, the report said, when neighbors called the police to report the man was brutally beating and choking his stepdaughter, the Barnhart girl. When the officers arrived, the report states, they found the girl lying on the floor, bruised and bleeding. Rice was in an intoxicated condition. Near the man was a gallon jug of whisky, the report said.

According to Deputy City Prosecutor Higgins, the defendant has beaten the girl on other occasions when under the influence of liquor.

When Rice failed to appear yesterday Judge Turney ordered bail forfeited and issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

COLISEUM FREE OF LAW CLOUDS

Supreme Court Upholds Stadium Agreements

Suit in Litigation More Than Four Years

History of Exposition Park Reviewed in Case

Legal clouds which have hovered over the Los Angeles Coliseum since its construction were cleared away completely yesterday by a decision handed down by the California State Supreme Court upholding the agreement under which the stadium was constructed by the Community Development Association four years ago.

The suit which has been in the courts since February 24, 1922, was filed by Charles C. Fries, Charles Chick, William Chick, J. S. Mahen, and Helen Durfee naming the city of Los Angeles, county of Los Angeles, the Sixth Agricultural District, and the Community Development Association as defendants.

The history of Exposition Park dating back to 1893 when the property was first acquired by the Sixth Agricultural District for accommodation of county fairs was brought out during the suit.

LEASED FOR FIFTY YEARS The city of Los Angeles first became concerned with the property in 1893 when a portion of Exposition Park was leased for fifty years. This lease was supplemented May 31, 1913, by another which affirmed the original but added the right to exercise another lease at its expiration for an additional fifty years. The city's chief interest in the land at that time was for recreation purposes.

June 21, 1920, Los Angeles purchased a part of the property to the Community Development Association for the purpose of holding exhibits and fairs and building a stadium. The stadium was to be built on the agricultural district. The lease was drawn to expire February 28, 1920, but it also provided that the interest of the Community Development Association at the end of ten years would be nominal only. The terms provided that upon construction the stadium was to be leased to the city and county at stated prices.

MANDAMUS BROUGHT The county officials refused to sign the agreement. Subsequent to the mandamus the lease agreement was redrafted on November 15, 1921, resulting that of June 21, 1920, making three minor changes. These changes altered the description of the property and rental payments and released officers and members of the Community Development Association from personal liability.

This latter agreement was the cause of the suit which was brought in an effort to force recognition of the 1921 lease contract. The decision by the Supreme Court yesterday held that the lease as amended is in substance the same as the original mandamus proceedings and issued submitted are the same as those subsequently upheld by the District Court of Appeal and that a factually settled in a former suit and judicially passed upon cannot be litigated further.

HOW WOULD YOU DO IT? A visitor, being shown through an English house, noticed one of the inmates, an American, who was jabbering excitedly and covering his cell with diagrams.

"What a pathetic case!" he remarked.

"Yes," replied the superintendent. "He tried to explain to some Englishman what was wrong."

PATRIOTISM RELIGION OF JAPANESE

Norwegian Professor on Way Back to Oslo After Studying Tokio Life

It is a combination of their religion, their patriotism, their devotion to their Mikado and their worship of ancestors which makes the Japanese such a brave people on the battlefield, Anathon Hall, professor of philosophy at Oslo University, Norway, said yesterday at the Alexander Hall.

He was on his way back from Tokio, where he has been lecturing for the past two months on social psychology in the Imperial University and spending his spare time studying the culture, religion and philosophy of Japan.

"The Japanese are very tolerant in their religious beliefs," said Prof. Hall. "They do not care whether a friend follows Shintoism, Buddhism, Brahmanism, Christianity, or what. They seem to be guided more by the symbolic side of a religion than by any convictions they have developed regarding the religion itself. And their religion is inextricably mixed up with patriotism. They believe in a wonderful hereafter. They believe that their work here must be carried on for the benefit of the nation."

Prof. Hall lectured for a year at Columbia University two years ago as a visiting professor and is now on his way to New York to visit some of the friends he made there at that time. He intends to return to his chair at the Oslo University next fall.

WORKERS OF THE UNITED JEWISH APPEAL met yesterday for luncheon at the Biltmore.

The completion of reports of work shown that although the time set for the completion of the campaign for the $225,000 quota for relief and restoration of Europe and Palestine had been reached the funds pledged totaled only $150,000.

Officers, committees and workers agreed at the meeting that the time should be extended indefinitely until the full quota is pledged, and the workers promised to go out with renewed zeal to raise the remaining $75,000.

Among those who spoke were Mrs. Blanche Upright, Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, chairman of the women's division of the motion-picture industry committee; Rabbi Herman Lissauer, chairman of the workers' committee; Henry W. Lee, chairman of the general committee; and Belle Beaudin, film actress.

PORT GREATNESS FORECAST

Members of Newly Organized Consular Corps Hail City as One of Future's Chief Trade Centers

Los Angeles is destined for a place among the greatest of the world centers of foreign trade according to the members of the newly organized Pan-American Consular Corps in this city. They point to the acceptance by L. W. Howe, director-general of the Pan-American Union in Washington, D. C. of an honorary presidency in the local body yesterday as a step toward this destiny.

Although bearing the title, Pan-American Consular Corps, the organization embraces consuls from more than 20 countries lying south of the United States. Following are the leading consuls and vice-consuls as reported by officers of the organization.

Dr. Jose S. Serna, Consul of Cuba and Panama; Manuel Arzola, Consul of Peru; C. E. Roberts, Consul of Costa Rica; Robert E. Tracey, Consul of Bolivia and Vice-Consul of Uruguay; Jose Quintana, Vice-Consul of Mexico; Henri Didot, Consul of France; James M. Sheridan, Vice-Consul of Italy; Charles W. Wainwright, Vice-Consul of Belgium; Alejandro Torres, Vice-Consul of Spain; E. N. Morris, Consul of Japan; Adrian Hartog, Vice-Consul of the Netherlands; Otto Wartenweiler, Consul of Switzerland; R. Urbino Vega, Consul of Honduras; William A. Montan, Vice-Consul of Sweden; H. P. Rising, Vice-Consul of Latvia; Fernando V. Valdes, Consul of Chile; Waldo E. Albrecht, Consul of Colombia; Henry C. Niese, Vice-Consul of Argentina and acting consul of Colombia; L. S. De Beek, Vice-Consul of Peru; R. M. Rega, Consul of Ecuador; P. Raposo, Jr., Consul of Nicaragua; Capt. De Lyra, Consul of Germany; R. A. Ramirez, Consul of Guatemala; A. H. Kirtle, Consul of Norway.

Youth Shot in Effort to Buy Ring for Girl

Because he wanted to purchase a ring for his sweetheart, P. Morgan Mercer, 24 years of age, a former star football player and track man from the University of Arizona, is in the General Hospital where he was reported late last night to be in a critical condition and doubt expressed as to his recovery, all a result of being shot down by Detective Lieutenant Hammen in a chase following an asserted attempt to pass checks totaling $50 on the Mayers Jewelry Company, 724 South Hope street, in payment for the ring.

Mercer offered checks to J. A. Mayers, proprietor of the store, according to police. Mayers became suspicious. He asked Mercer to wait, then telephoned the police. Detective Lieutenant Taylor and Hammen responded and on their arrival the youth fled after knocking Hammen down with a blow on the jaw. The officers gave chase and ordered Mercer to halt. He refused to do so and Hammen dropped him with a bullet from his revolver. He was shot in the right lung.

Muriel Hancock, 215 1/2 South Rito street, Huntington Park, is the girl for whom Mercer attempted to purchase the ring, according to companions of the wounded youth who live with him at 443 1/2 Alfar Canal, Venice. His parents live in Farmer, Idaho, and are reported to be well-to-do. He has been receiving an allowance from them, but it has recently been cut off. Police believe this may be the reason for the asserted attempt to pass the checks.

Victim of Coma Will be Brought to Los Angeles

That Mrs. Clara Drummond, the young Fresno victim of gas poisoning who has been in a state of coma for eighty-nine days, is to be brought to Los Angeles today by train was the word received from this city last night. Walter E. Drummond, husband of the woman, will place her in the hands of two chiropractors, Dr. William Pascook and Dr. Paul H. Blidde, for treatment.

Dr. Blidde declared last night that he had not been informed of the arrangements but that he will be glad of an opportunity to do what he can for her relief.

DEAF PLACE HIGH HOPE IN TELEVISION

Only One Spoken Address at Opening of Convention; Anthem "Sun"

With sign language as the only method of communication a complete program, including the "singing" of "America" was presented last night at the opening session of the convention of the Deaf in Masonic Temple, Pico and Figueroa streets.

Bruce Findlay, assistant Superintendent of City Schools, gave the only spoken address. His words were interpreted into the hand language of the deaf by Miss Beale P. Reeves, vice-principal of the Roosevelt High School.

Today a meeting will take place at Maple Hall, 845 South Figueroa street at 3 p.m. A business session will be held at 8 p.m. at the Athletic Club of the Deaf, 310 1/2 West Pico boulevard. The convention will end on Monday with an all-day picnic at Brookside Park, Pasadena which will include games, bathing and the presentation of a business session.

Mr. Howard L. Terry, president of the Deaf, stated last night through an interpreter that the convention will take up matters of vital interest to the welfare of the deaf. A paper by her handed out at last night's meeting brought out that radio as a help to the totally deaf is overestimated and expressed hope that the development of television will be the savior of the deaf in communication.

MILK HAS EFFICACY OF APPLE

Quart a Day Will Keep Doctor Away, Professor Tells Health Institute

A quart of milk a day, particularly California milk, will keep the doctor away, Dr. E. A. Winslow, director of the Yale Medical School, told the Los Angeles Public Health Institute yesterday.

Dr. Winslow characterized milk as the ideal food and declared that health authorities should work toward a per capita consumption of a quart of milk daily. The quality of California's milk is particularly praised from the public health expert.

George Frampton, chairman of the Los Angeles Dairy Council, acted as chairman of the institute session yesterday. Sam Green of San Francisco, secretary of the California Dairy Council, featured the conference of typhoid through scientific treatment of milk.

Dr. P. C. Matignon, president of the Los Angeles County Medical Milk Commission, also discussed the milk supply from a health standpoint and declared that Los Angeles' milk supply was perhaps the purest and best in the nation. The county, he pointed out, has carried out for prize in national competition to determine the purity and nutritive value of the nation's milk and the standard it has set in certified milk remains unchanged.

Dr. Alfred Cailan, child welfare authority, discussed the progress of orthopedic surgery and the value of sunlight in treating children.

LOS ANGELES FLYER HELD BY CUSTOMS

Plane Seized at Border for Asserted Attempt to Smuggle Chinese

Charles Widmar, 1444 West One Hundredth street, was taken in custody by United States immigration authorities, co-operating with Mexican officials, fifteen miles below the international boundary line yesterday afternoon, on information that the airplane he was piloting would attempt to smuggle Chinese across the border. His plane also was seized.

Widmar is said to be a former air mail pilot once employed by the Pacific Air Transport Company and last fall was piloting a plane when Donald Rostler, a mechanic, was killed. Widmar saved himself when the plane got beyond control by a parachute leap. In that instance he was exonerated from blame in connection with the fatality.

The American officer went below the line yesterday afternoon after receiving a report that the Chinese were waiting. Acting with the Mexican officers they arrested the Chinese. Then the officers partly hid in the brush to await the airplane. It landed at 4:30 p.m. and as soon as it came to a stop the pilot was arrested. The prisoners were taken to the jail at Tijuana, but the immigration authorities said they would be brought across the line today for prosecution in the United States.

Whale Will be Embalmed and Exhibited

With a tank full of embalming fluid and a fifty-ton whale awaiting him at the end of his journey, W. J. Brock, a mortician employed by Gates, Crane & Earl, Hollywood undertakers, set out last night for San Clemente Island.

It is Brock's intention to embalm the whale, thus giving this particular whale the distinction of being the first of its family, as far as history knows, of being treated in such preserving fashion. The embalmed whale will be towed to Venice, there to be exhibited to curious crowds over the holidays and thereafter, if thought advisable and the embalming fluid has the proper effect.

AUTOS STOLEN

The following cars were reported stolen in the past twenty-four hours from the streets of Los Angeles by the theft bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California:

Chrysler roadster, 1-288-884; Chevrolet coupe, 839-141; Packard touring, 785-467; Dodge roadster, 689-318; Reo speedwagon, 288-148; Packard sedan, 1-389-187; Oakland sedan, 884-263; Ford coupe, 987-504; Ford coupe, 1-797-282; Ford coupe, 1-298-628; Ford roadster, 1-683-944; Dodge roadster, 1-873-967; Chrysler roadster, 1-116-148.

Attorney From Northern State to Practice Here

John F. Murphy, who for two terms was District Attorney of King county, Washington, was admitted to the California bar here yesterday.

He will be associated with Attorneys Robb and Preston in the Helman Building.

By a singular coincidence, Maurice M. Murphy, son of John F. Murphy, who played one of the title-role sequences in "Beau Geste," was selected yesterday to play the role of a district attorney in a new play.

Another son, John, is also well known in Hollywood's juvenile colony and will be remembered as John Darling in "Peter Pan."

Mr. Murphy, who left a lucrative practice at Seattle to join his family in Los Angeles, formerly was secretary to United States Senator Frye of Maine and enjoyed a close personal acquaintance with the late Theodore Roosevelt.

SHOOTING OF BOY TOLD TO COURT AGAIN

Lankershim Woman Doctor Insists Lad's Death Was Caused by Accident

Reliterating the story she has told ever since a shot from a pistol held by her took the life of 14-year-old Rinaldo Frassinini as he sat in his father's car at Lankershim, Mrs. Louise Cable, woman physician, yesterday went on the stand in her own defense at a preliminary examination before Municipal Judge Ambrose and declared the shooting accidental.

"I heard my husband, grappling with the boy's father and as I ran to his aid with a revolver I stumbled on the lawn, injuring my ankle and discharging the revolver. The bullet struck the boy as he sat in the machine, killing him," Mrs. Cable said under questioning by Defense Attorney Byron C. Hannah.

Mrs. Cable's testimony was the same as that given the previous day by her husband, C. F. Cable.

The elder Frassinini appeared as principal prosecution witness. At the close of yesterday's session the case was continued until tomorrow morning, when it is expected to be concluded.

World-Touring Evangelist Will be at Temple

Angelus Temple services will be conducted with Rev. Smith Wigglesworth, world-touring evangelist from England, in the pulpit, starting Sunday, when he holds communion service at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. James Salter, daughter of Mr. Wigglesworth, will assist in the service while he is in Los Angeles. Mr. Wigglesworth and Mrs. Salter will conduct divine-healing service in the afternoon and the evening service will be along evangelistic lines.

Three world trips and twenty years on the evangelistic road is the record of Mr. Wigglesworth. He states that every year he deals with thousands of needy sick all over the world. Many instances of divine healing in the pulpit as well as informal ones encountered on shipboard and in his daily life are credited to Mr. Wigglesworth. He is staying at the Rosilyn Hotel.

Transfers and Promotions in Sheriff's Staff

Two heads of departments were transferred, one senior deputy was promoted to assistant chief criminal deputy, and a number of junior deputies were promoted to the rank of senior in an order issued yesterday by Sheriff Truesher. The order will take effect today.

J. B. Fox, head of the auto-theft detail, was transferred to command of the fugitive detail, and W. H. Zuphman, head of that squad, as detailed in charge of the auto-theft detail. James Benton, senior deputy in charge of the dry-cleaning squad, was made an assistant chief criminal deputy in charge of that squad, taking the position of James Bond.

The following junior deputies were promoted to the rank of senior: J. W. Neighbors, Al Owsen, J. Stewart, O. A. Gregg, F. W. Goodrich, and William Coulier. Fred Farmer and E. L. Pichman, assistant junior deputies named as junior criminal deputies. Other promotions were of turnkeys and bailiffs to the rank of junior deputy.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM FOR WESTLAKE PARK

Patriotic programs have been prepared by the Board of Park Commissioners for presentation at Westlake Park Sunday and Monday. The week-end celebration will open Saturday evening with an orchestra concert by Jimmie Torrelli and his band. Sunday afternoon music will be by Zel Costello Mexican Band, with solos by Elm Zelinda Foley and David Perry. The Monday program will consist of a band concert with vocal solos and a patriotic oration in the afternoon, and a concert with aquatic fireworks in the evening.

CONTRACT LET FOR CAHUENGA PAVING

The Board of Public Works has awarded to J. N. Cook the contract for the paving of Cahuenga Pass from Oak Crest to Lankershim Boulevard. The contract price for the grading and paving was $24,244. This will complete the improvement of Cahuenga Pass and provide a wide road from Highland avenue to Lankershim Boulevard and will remove the congestion in the section of the road between the crest of the grade east to Lankershim Boulevard.

Retiring OFFICIAL HONORED

Capt. George S. McClary Receives Presentations on Leaving Police Force

A diamond-studded police badge and a life membership in the Al-Masik Shrine were presented to Capt. George S. McClary, in command of the Highland Park station, who was retiring yesterday after more than twenty years as an active member of the Los Angeles Police Department.

The badge, a gift of the men under his command, was studied with two diamonds, signifying his rank, and was presented by Lieut. Romero. Councilman Bonelli on behalf of his brother officers and friends presented the life membership in the shrine at a luncheon served in the rear of the station.

Members of the Police Commission and a representative from Chief of Police Devitt's office and several hundred friends attended. Mayor Orwe and Lieut.-Gov. Fiske sent their regards to Capt. McClary.

Capt. McClary turned his speech to how his health had forced him to retire. He will take a short vacation in the summer and return to his home in Los Angeles.

Man 73 and Girl 29 Get License and Disappear

William Emory Adams, 73 years of age, wealthy, bashful and in love, appeared at the Courthouse yesterday with Mary Cleich, 29 the bride-to-be, and obtained a license to wed.

Then they disappeared, presumably on the way to the altar, but whether they had found a minister was still a question last night. The 73-year-old groom-to-be is a wealthy wholesale grocer of Deadwood, S. D.

The 29-year-old prospective bride lives at 942 South Alvarado street and is a former nurse. Acquaintances said the romance between the two began when he fell ill and Miss Cleich nursed him.

His wife and daughter died about a year ago and he has spent much of his time in California since, having a residence at 600 South Orange Drive, Pasadena.

LAKUNA NAMES MAYOR

T. A. Cummings First Administrator of Newly Incorporated City

LAKUNA BEACH, June 30. (Exclusive)—Thomas A. Cummings, street superintendent of Los Angeles for many years, tonight became the first Mayor of Lakuna Beach. He was chosen by vote of his fellow-members of the City Council, who were elected June 22, last, when Lakuna Beach was incorporated officially as a city of the sixth class.

Mr. Cummings will be officially declared Mayor of the new city the 29th inst. when the new Municipal Corporations Act applying to cities of its class goes into effect.

ELECTRICAL BURNS FATAL TO WORKER

Barton McClirk, 48 years of age, died last night at the Receiving Hospital of burns received while repairing a generator in a Southern California Edison Company power station. The accident was caused by a short circuit. Mr. McClirk lived at 714 North Ogden Drive.
